This establishment is principally occupied in arranging law matters, and employs only lawyers and attorneys of known name. It manages all affairs, civil, criminal and commercial which may be brought before the tribunals; also all claims against the National and Provincial Governments. It takes upon itself all the expenses of any lawsuit which may be entrusted to it either to commence or carry on: it takes charge of accounts, wills, judicial reversions, and claims in the camp; it purchases titles and documents of the Argentine and Oriental debts, title deeds, disputed disputes, pagarés, and protested drafts, taking these at a proportionate discount. It takes charge of estates, making itself responsible to the owners for the rents, and takes upon itself all expenses incurred in recovering rents from troublesome tenants, the landlord only paying a small commission on the recovery: it advances funds on mortgage of land, documents, and valuable effects. Lastly, it takes charge of all kinds of commissions, both within the republic and in other countries, when necessary giving a proper guarantee.

FRIDAY, APRIL 29 1859.

THE YERBA MONOPOLY.

Some few weeks past, when the Cuzco and Cocido question was less absorbing than at present, there appeared in the 'Nacion Argentina' several commissioned articles signed M. Pellizs, respecting the monopoly of the Paraguayan Government in the yerba mate. These communications caused no small attention in Paraguay, and elicited some very pungent replies in the 'Semanario' nothing can be more absurd than M. Pellizs's ideas, and his proposed protective tax of 80 per cent on an article such as Paraguayan yerba, so much used in this city, would we verily believe cause a serious disturbance amongst the female portion of our society. The Paraguayan Government supports itself almost exclusively upon this monopoly, as owing to the tenure of farms in that country there is no such thing known as a property tax (contribucion directa).

As many of our readers may take an interest to the question, we extract the following from our Paraguyan colleague.

It requires very little foresight to perceive that the Yerba question, is destined to become a matter of serious importance in the River Plate for two reasons.

First, because the Portenos visit the Paraguayo cheap.

Second, because any project hostile to the Paraguayan Government or the industry of the country, no matter how ridiculous or absurd will meet with a popularity in Buenos Ayres which will sweep down all opposition.

That the Portenos should wish to have cheap yerba, we are by no means surprised, but that they should seek to force the Paraguayan yerba into their markets at their own figures is as alike preposterous as it is absurd.

The Argentine Government is blessed with the same fertile soil, endowed (in theory) with the finest institutions, we confess that it is a matter of surprise and wonder to us that a people who are so anxious to have cheap mate do not produce and fabricate it themselves. Oh, but it is a hateful monopoly of President Lopez's about the Portenos, and cannot be tolerated—monopolies are illegal monopolies are tyrannical, monopolies on such an article of consumption must be abolished.

That monopolies are illegal we deny; on the contrary they are enjoined in Europe by some of the most civilized nations. In the long history of international institutions, we challenge M. Pellizs to show us an instance, of where one nation forced upon another the surrender of its monopolies.

Nay, at this moment, when Portenos are groaning so much about Paraguayan monopoly in yerba, they are themselves forming a more objectionable one in the same article, in the province of Corrientes. What say Governor Lagrana and Minister Cancino? Have they fear the Yerba Company will fall through. If the gentlemen of the 11, Ayres Bolsa succeed in their scheme, it will deprive the country people of the right to 'beneficiar' this staple, and cause perhaps a revolution. Hitherto the yerbales were free to cut away, but now B. Ayres wants to make a monopoly, which is the very thing they profess to abhor.

The naval supremacy of England was built up by her navigation-laws, which were essentially the greatest monopoly ever known; and if she found it her interest to repeal these laws, we are not to be told that it was forced from her by a neighbouring nation; rather was it effected by the silent progress of commerce, the great increase of her own shipping, and the giant strides of the Americans. But if she has repealed her navigation laws, she still holds her own monopolies; her tax on tea would according to the visionary M. Pellizs justify the Chinese besieging London; her tax on tobacco would afford just cause for all the Yankees to invade her shores; even the growing of tobacco in the United Kingdom is for business purposes prohibited by the Government.

France has also her monopolies, as every one who uses her tobacco well knows. Spain has her monopoly in salt. Austria, Russia, all the greatest nations on the earth hold their monopolies, even the North Americans, before the war broke out, had their monopolies, the fisheries along the whole North American seaboard. were monopolized solely by American bottoms, and vessels of other nations were obliged to pay tribute to the Government. If these laws in Europe and North America this simple, easy and effective mode of supporting the Government—monopolies —were, and to this day are, sanctioned and tolerated, we certainly must say that we can see no just reason why the monopoly in Paraguay is so much abused.

Paraguay is purely an agricultural country, and the very monopoly which M Pelizzs so much complains of has been the direct and absolute means by which Government has been enabled to liberate the people from taxation, the country from poverty, the exchequer from bankruptcy. If we are to be called upon as the friends of a much abused Government to justify this monopoly we point proudly to the noble manner in which the proceeds of such monopoly have been expended.

The Paraguayan steamers ply the rivers and connect Paraguay with the ocean, their locomotives are now binding towns and villages together, and unite them with the city.

The Paraguayans have done all this themselves, and on their own capital With all the noise about the vaunted progress of Buenos Ayres, what has she done for herself? Why, she exports 100,000 bales of wool, 75 per cent of which is from the province of Buenos Ayres itself. But let us look into the matter a little more closely: take from Buenos Ayres the English, Scotch, and principally Irish sheep-farmers, and what has she left her provincial farmers in the city subtract from her commerce the English and other foreign houses, and her trade will hardly equal that of a prosperous mercantile

Candidly speaking, we think Porteños have little to say about monopolies, when we see the manner in which they with their rotten bank and dishonored paper dollar. What has Buenos Ayres to show for its banking monopoly for so long a period? Has it given to the gains built wharves to accommodate trade, or even national edifices to adorn the city? Let us answer. The banking monopoly of the Buenos Ayrean Government has only produced bloodshed and civil war. The Paraguayan monopoly in yerba has built up the country's greatness, whilst ours in paper money has brought ruin and intestine war.

The history of commerce, affords sufficient proof of what M. Pellizs's proposed tax, or rather fine on Paraguayan yerba, will result in. It will not lessen the consumption, because only the wealthy use this description of herb, and the dearer it is, the more fashionable it will become; it will, no doubt, afford a fresh revenue to an at present rather an overshot Government, but the ruin of the Argentines, not Paraguayans, and unless the Porteños themselves go up and take the yerba out of the hands of the producers, we don't if ever they will succeed in getting it at the price which they could desire.

We have had nonsensical measures as those M. Pelizs proposes re resorted to the latter. We should not be surprised to hear that some Buenos Ayrean politicians threaten the Paraguayans with a bi-cikade at Martin Garcia, if they did not supply all Buenos Ayres with yerba gratis; but we apprehend that Mr. Pelizs may as well know now, as hereafter ward, that he has as much control over the Paraguayan system of the rivers, as M. Pelizs has over the price of our 'yerba mate'

WANTED SALADEROS

We question, if there is a country in the world where trade is more unmanaged, or commerce worse regulated, than in the River Plate, not that we mean to make any wholesale charges against the foreign mercantile body, which, we are proud to say, is composed of men of the strictest rectitude and most honorable principle, but that we perceive in Buenos Ayres some branches of trade are utterly exhausted by competition, whilst others are entirely neglected and forgotten. It requires neither the logic of a Whately, nor the statistical erudition of a M'Culloh, to prove our assertion, since we are in a position to show that by the proper investment of capital in localities where capital is wanting, a safe and remunerative business can be carried on, without either diminishing the trade of others, or incurring an undue risk. Were the commercial body of this city confined to a few commission men, or foreign capital, represented by printed cutlicoes or pig iron, we could better understand how our mercnants take a lees 'comprehensive grasp' of the River Plate trade; but, on the contrary, have we not a body of merchants almost too numerous for the size of the place? And as for capital, have we not now almost as many sovereigns and dollars in circulation as paper dollars? Viewing the matter in this light, we confess we are surprised that some of our English merchants have not invested a few thousand pounds sterling in building a saladero, where cattle are expeditiously and labour cheaply

The province of Corrientes is at present so full of cattle, that the inhabitants are actually obliged to export to Paraguay and Entre Rios on their own account. Although this province has an unqualified river communication with Buenos Ayres, we cannot authorise safely at Goyan, the capital, as in the roads of B. Ayres, although the price of Novillos is only 4 dollars, yet the butchers in the towns is but four silver dollars, there is not one saladero at work in the whole province. Through some unknown cause, the cattle multiply in the province, that of St. de la Sar, at Goya, is no longer workings we believe from bankruptcy. If we are called upon as the friends of a much abused Government to justify this monopoly we point proudly to the noble manner in which the proceeds of such monopoly have been expended.

The Paraguayan steamers ply the rivers and connect Paraguay with the ocean, their locomotives are now binding towns and villages together, and unite them with the city.

The Paraguayans have done all this themselves, and on their own capital With all the noise about the vaunted progress of Buenos Ayres, what has she done for herself? Why, she exports 100,000 bales of wool, 75 per cent of which is from the province of Buenos Ayres itself. But let us look into the matter a little more closely: take from Buenos Ayres the English, Scotch, and principally Irish sheep-farmers, and what has she left her provincial farmers in the city subtract from her commerce the English and other foreign houses, and her trade will hardly equal that of a prosperous mercantile

Candidly speaking, we think Porteños have little to say about monopolies, when we see the manner in which they with their rotten bank and dishonored paper dollar. What has Buenos Ayres to show for its banking monopoly for so long a period? Has it given to the gains built wharves to accommodate trade, or even national edifices to adorn the city? Let us answer. The banking monopoly of the Buenos Ayrean Government has only produced bloodshed and civil war. The Paraguayan monopoly in yerba has built up the country's greatness, whilst ours in paper money has brought ruin and intestine war.

The history of commerce, affords sufficient proof of what M. Pellizs's proposed tax, or rather fine on Paraguayan yerba, will result in. It will not lessen the consumption, because only the wealthy use this description of herb, and the dearer it is, the more fashionable it will become; it will, no doubt, afford a fresh revenue to an at present rather an overshot Government, but the ruin of the Argentines, not Paraguayans, and unless the Porteños themselves go up and take the yerba out of the hands of the producers, we don't if ever they will succeed in getting it at the price which they could desire.

We have had nonsensical measures as those M. Pelizs proposes re sorted to the latter. We should not be surprised to hear that some Buenos Ayrean politicians threaten the Paraguayans with a bi-ckade at Martin Garcia, if they did not supply all Buenos Ayres with yerba gratis; but we apprehend that Mr. Pelizs may as well know now, as hereafter ward, that he has as much control over the Paraguayan system of the rivers, as M. Pelizs has over the price of our 'yerba mate'

WANTED SALADEROS

We question, if there is a country in the world where trade is more unmanaged, or commerce worse regulated, than in the River Plate, not that we mean to make any wholesale charges against the foreign mercantile body, which, we are proud to say, is composed of men of the strictest rectitude and most honorable principle, but that we perceive in Buenos Ayres some branches of trade are utterly exhausted by competition, whilst others are entirely neglected and forgotten. It requires neither the logic of a Whately, nor the statistical erudition of a M'Culloh, to prove our assertion, since we are in a position to show that by the proper investment of capital in localities where capital is wanting, a safe and remunerative business can be carried on, without either diminishing the trade of others, or incurring an undue risk. Were the commercial body of this city confined to a few commission men, or foreign capital, represented by printed cutlicoes or pig iron, we could better understand how our mercnants take a lees 'comprehensive grasp' of the River Plate trade; but, on the contrary, have we

The recent Indian invasion near Azul has alarmed all the Southern districts. The savages overcook an Italian officer's despatches and murdered him: a native officer narrowly escaped the same fate, being stripped of everything even to his shirt, and set loose in the open camp to find shelter as best he could some leagues off. The tribe is said to be Calfucura's, and was probably one of those that lately visited Governments, which guarantees such impunity to robbers of all colors.

No 5 of the River Plate Magazine will appear on Monday. We understand that the list of subscribers is increasing and the Editors purpose reducing the price: the growth of Magazines is wonderful in B. Ayres. A year ago we had only one 'the Pharmacist,' quietly now we have about a dozen. We are glad to hear from Dr. Navarro Viola that his Revista de B. Ayres is gaining ground.

Any person who can give information about the proposed Rosario Exhibition, or British navy amateur theatricals to come off at Colon, will do us a service.

Minister Derges says that the English merchants of Buenos Ayres are correct: he has a portfolio of offers to purchase this year's crop. Take care, gentlemen, that you don't burn your fingers by trying to grasp.

As Independence month begins next week, we advise the public that it is usual to whitewash in honor of the anniversary of the birth and line me morial stands in the plaza. The Policia has already set the example: would that others would imitate the same alacrity in moral purification?

The Nacional incorrectly states that the Urú excursion to San Fernando will not be public, but a private affair and Tuesday, May 3rd. is the day fixed.

Many people say that the French packet news will drive the election fever out of the Credo and Cocido heads We should rather anticipate that the Buenos Ayrean vote on the 23rd prox. will elevate the views of our petty politicians from such grovelling notions as the Chambers.

The French packet was again disappointed us, but will probably arrive today. There was a second supplement to the Moniteur, on the 19th, by the Tevere: the Corrientes took that of Wednesday evening.

No wonder is at present very variable: on Tuesday night we had rain, (but it seems only in he city, on Wednesday night frost, and on yesterday a hot day succeeded. The wheat on the Mercedes are in good condition, and the farmers in high spirits.

Tomorrow night we shall have Miss Clifford's and the Opera house Mr. Wells' ghost has not yet appeared: this exhibition caused great sensation in London, Dublin and other European capitals.

HORRIBLE CAMP BARBA-RITIES

One frishman killed and two wounded.

The assassins scot-free.

The hand of the murderer is again at work at the camp. Every day brings a new victim and adds to the infernal catalogue of unpunished crime, for which B Ayrean rulers must be held responsible.

On Sunday night, 24th inst. Mr. Derges and Scully of Lobos was murdered at the door of his cook-house, by a native who came to rob the house. The unfortunate Scully, quite unarmed, was stabbed by the murderer, receiving a dreadful wound in the breast: he lies in a dangerous state. Mr. James Reilly was also severely wounded in the left side, and was able to attend at the funeral. The assassin got off scot-free, and no information has been given. Inviable escape of murderers gives British subjects a right to bemoan the debility of the native Government.

Alas! there is no truer sentence, for the state of barbarism and bloodshed to which the country parts of B. Ayres have been and deserted on the one hand, and parallel among semi civilized nations. Since the 3rd Feb. 1852, 130 British subjects have been murdered in cold blood, and in no single case has the assassin paid the penalty. How long must this continue? or are we to be for ever doomed to the spectacle of the gaucho, or knife? We hope the Government will at once adopt some measures for the safety of the foreigner is becoming worse and worse daily.

The brothers Scully were industrious shepherds on the estancia of Sor Acosta, which they had taken half a flock of sheep from them. They lived about 4 leagues from Lobos.

FLORES' MOVEMENTS.

The Reforma of April 27th has letters from Salto 23rd inst. "On the 19th. Flores crossed the Rio Negro at Quinteros and Toros, with an army of 900 men. Information was received to day from Payasandu stating that he had again gone North, his troops not wishing to go, South. As usual we hear of bands of 8 or 10 men deserting from him, and committing awful atrocities and carrying off everything in their route to the Brazilian frontier In the department of Salto, Colonel Urquiza, who lately gained a triumph a Constitucion, commands 300 men, of whom 60 are South of the Arapey, cleansing the district of the filibusters. To-day, Colonels Lenguas and Pinta started for Montevideo."

Colonel Urquiza arrives from Puntas Cebal, 11th inst. that he made a reconnoisance on the Sarandi the day previous, here found Mr. Castro with his force and Colonel Castro's his force being only 3 he retired by the Daiman, with 100 horses.

Fabian Urquiza communicated, 22nd inst. Puntas San Antonio, a trifling advantage over the rebels, killing one, taking two prisoners, and 50 horses with some arms and clothing.

We have news from San Jose on the Brazilian frontier, March 22nd. that two Italian officers (named Rodriefore and Oarcles) of the B Ayrean army came thither to seduce the Government soldiers, and succeeded in taking three: The commander sent a body of 18 men in their pursuit, overtaking them at Tacuarembo: the Italians were severely punished, and the Italian officers put in irons.

Major Roman gained a victory, at Tres Cruces, 6th inst. over the rebel band of Urau, killing 4, taking 6 prisoners, and dispersing the rest, who fled to the mountains, the rebel officer is supposed drowned, his horse being taken among the spoils. Another rebel band was dispersed at Villa Artigas, and driven into the river Yaqua ion.

The fortifications at Canelones are going on actively: ramparts were erected, 5 feet thick, and a ditch 8 feet convallation has been made with a trench six feet deep. The Government is determined at all cost, and that of the rebels five leagues off, near the River Yi.

The 'Comercio' states that "General Medina, along with Munoz, Rodriguez and Aparicio were confronted at estancia, 2nd inst on the estancia of Pallares on the banks of the Maciel, three leagues from the town of Flores to which Villasbons ready to march for Tejera. His vanguard, under Goyo Suarez, was attacked by some of the Vi in Blanco. It is reported that when Flores was preparing the Rio Negro, 300 men had mutinied."

"In Maldonado a force of 50 men under Colonel Acuiio had put to the knife some parties of Borges near San Carlos, who had been surprised by an ambuscade."

IMPORTANT FROM CORRIENTES

The late Mutiny.

Fossil oysters from Paraná.

Several of the mutinous soldiers have made their submission to Governor Largrana, who has. we believe, pardoned them. Of those forced to embark at Corrientes for Rosario, seventeen escaped in a whale-boat. The cotton crop is being picked, and several deputies have arrived in Ayres with the view of making contracts. The crop price can hardly exceed 3 silver reals (16d.) per lb. ginned, delivered in this city, although the planters ask enormous figures. Deputy Iguzabal came down by the Paraguayan steamer. In the collision of the Salto de Guayra with the schooner, a young lady passenger fainted, but was revived by throwing water in her face.

The arrival of two rivers at present remarkable The Paraguay is high, the Parana low, and the mouths of the Uruguay at the confluence with the river Plate almost unnavigable from low water. The piratical practice of stealing buoys continues unpunished: more than a dozen have been put down at Cuff. Bruce's expense have been taken away.

The Paraguayan postoon with 200 tons coal, sank near Parana, is still in the same condition: a Frenchman has undertaken to dive for the coal, on condition of getting one-half, and we learn that Government has accepted his offer.—In front of Zarate, there are some lands belonging to a Frenchman, who has turned them into a sheep farm maintaining thereon two or three blacks.

A gentleman has just arrived from Parana with fossil-oysters, most perfectly preserved and petrified, which he intends to present to Admiral Murray. These interesting relipues of past ages will be a valuable addition to the Admiral's interesting museum; they may perhaps aid our friends in that difficult investigation "How old are we?"

A HINT TO THE WAR-OF ICE

In this province we have a law which condemns vagos, indroneacuteros, &c., to military service from two to four years; it also authorizes the justices of peace (in the country) to try summarily persons accused of those offences. To be enabled to go through the case with due rapidity, they (the justices of peace) are furnished with printed forms, which are filled up by inserting the man's name, the offence committed the term, &c., with which document he is sent direct to the nearest depot. We have 62 partidos in this province, consequently 62 depots furnished with ample power to try and condemn offenders of this class; how many, might it not have been sent to the frontiers during the first quarter of this year? I confine the question more especially to this year, as it is supposed by some that the cooling of the fire lemers lately come into fashion have caused a relaxation in this law, with a consequent falling off in the rent of the year, a dead letter. The proposed plan, that offenses of this kind are less frequent, we cannot but put with any regard to truth, for the testimony of any resident in the camp, native or foreign, will prove quite the reverse. On an average, the 62 partidos could send annually 25 men each to the frontiers; certainly, there is no partido which could not afford to lose, and the gainer by such a loss, 25 men of the class this law comprises; if so, the fifty two partidos should send a total of 1300 men; not a bad addition to the army, obtained without disbursing three and a quarter million dollars, which sum would be given as bounty, to an equal number of regimentados besides the money saved, the camp would be immensely benefitted by the absence of such inhabitants, from a political point is, how to counteract the effect of these cooked and raw dinners, and how to prevent, legally, this law from being evaded by the quinancenow or other political questions require it, a dead letter; the Minister of War is not at present popular amongst those appointed to carry out this law, therefore, consequently he is liable to be cheated of his rights, get one-tenth the number he should get, and at the same time be criticised for leaving the frontiers unprotected. The least expensive, and perhaps most effectual remedy would be, to appoint a national commissioner or agent in each partido, part of whose duty should be, to see that all those who come under the provisions of this law be duly punished; there will then be no attached officers of the army who could fill this situation with little expense and great advantage to the country The object to be gained by enforcing the law in question is worthy of consideration, and if the conscript saves on usually 3,250,000 dols. (the levy to 1300 men); second, murders and robberies will become less frequent, by banishing from amongst peaceable and industrious inhabitants, those who live by pillage and plunder; third, when capitalists and intending emigrants hear that of Indian and of robbery and of murder, they will then find inducements to supply this country with the only means it requires—capital and immigrants. DICK.

CHAMBERS OF H. ENOS AYRES

NEW DEPUTIES SWORN IN

Yesterday, at half-past one, the ominous ceremony of swearing in the gentlemen elected by 2 parishes and refused by 3, as Deputies for the province, came off at Ayres with the view of making contracts. The crop price can hardly exceed 3 silver reals (16d.) per lb. ginned, delivered in this city, although the planters ask enormous figures. Deputy Iguzabal came down by the Paraguayan steamer. In the collision of the Salto de Guayra with the schooner, a young lady passenger fainted, but was revived by throwing water in her face.

Solferino Accepts.

The owner of Solferino will run Belgrano with 6 lbs., on next Sunday or any subsequent day.

LOCAL EVENTS.

The Transandino Railway.—The Rosario papers have several articles extracted from the Chile newspapers on this important subject. Chile, to all appearance, is to have all the trouble and expense whilst the Argentines are to reap the benefit. It is a truly lucky thing for the world that all this continent is not peopled with Argentines, but that there are some nations who can leave rotten elections to one side and turn their attention to railways and human progress.

The Banda Oriental—The Tribune has a perfect bagful of nuts to crack, on the subject of the harbouring of the Blanco Government in the case of Snr. Bory. It is such an unusual thing for the Blancos to lay themselves open to similar charges, that the Herald papers cannot make too much capital out of it; and if, as in this case, they can get one or two signatures, why their fortune's made.

The Boca Railway.—This railway is progressing most rapidly: the most activity is displayed between the Vuelta de Rocha, in the Riachuelo and the Ensenada. The framework of a station-house is already run up, and the rails and other plant which arrived last month, have been deposited in the Boca—' Nacional.'

The Police.—The ' Nacional' has at last opened its eyes to the startling fact that the so-called police are not worth their salt; it makes the startling discovery that the people pay, and pay heavily, for the luxury of seeing a dirty, ill-looking lot of men lounge about the Cabildo. In the time of peace they are excessive lovers of furniture, and in disturbances they are doubly so, as the outrages committed by them are frightful. We trust that our native colleagues, after witnessing the scenes of last Saturday, will turn their attention a little more towards tryuglio remedy this nuisance.

The Southern Railway.—The Danish brig Dan has arrived here from Granger mouth with a cargo of iron, iron rails, and other railway plant. It is really pleasing to us to see this splendid perseverance and industry of the old Anglo-Saxon race; and these qualities shine out all the more brightly at present, when we are plunged into Christmian darkness of elections and riots. Hurra for the pickaxe.

Convicts.—Two of those public pests have been sentenced to eight and five years respectively at the public works. The fellow who has been sentenced to the five years sojourn in Martin Garcia, has been convicted of manslaughter. It would be a great deal better to hang such fellows than pay for their keep, and thus prevent the accident of manslaughter becoming fashionable.

No use of crying over Spilled Milk.—The origin of this frightful slaughter of woodcutters in the Gran Chaco, by the Indians, was, as might be supposed a woman. It appears that a stupid mincey in Corrientes let drop a jar of milk, and with true feminine ferocity (without counting the result) accused the Indian of having broken the pitcher. Her master seized the poor innocent Indian and shot him through the head. This appears to have exasperated the Aborigines, and they came down, like the wolf on the fold, and massacred all the woodcutters, as already reported.

San Nicolas.—The Juez has forbidden a Juan Bory, either of the ' Amigo del Pueblo,' to leave that city, until the suits which have been issued against him be settled.

Parana Elections.—The ' Litoral' of Parana says that the elections of Parana have been approved of, in spite of the protests of the citizens of that place.

South American Police.—To student of South American prints, the question must frequently present itself, how to commit all the murders—is it the police? It really appears as though the mere fact of a town having a so-called police is a sufficient excuse for robberies and brutal murders being perpetrated, for we have frequently noticed that as soon as any place which was quiet enough before, caused with those men, murders become rife. The Parana papers state that "in less than a week we have heard of five or six people wounded, and one more who has been taken to the hospital mortally stabbed. These all owe their origin to fights in the public streets."

ON 'CHANGE.

April 26th, 1864.

Paper price of ounces, 16¾ mje.

Specie suffered a serious decline today. Patacones opened at 28 75, and closed at 28 60. Total cash sales, 74,516. For Saturday the sales were very heavy, it being the end of the month; 167,850 were sold at from 28 75 to 28 60, but at the closing hour of the Bolsa they stiffened up a little, and closed firm at 28 65. By the end of boy, 52,000 were sold at 28 65.

There is a general feeling on the Bolsa that specie has not yet touched bottom, and every one seems to prefer selling to buying. The sudden fall in specie is attributed to the loan negotiated by the Finance Minister with the Merchants. On the Bolsa it is said that four millions of paper money will be burned in the first days of May, and that over 32 millions will be burned during the year. The terms of the loan are very fair, but the interest (4 per cent) we regard as high. We shall publish in a few days full particulars respecting this loan, which, we are happy to say, has not been confined to native merchants.

Nothing can prove more clearly the great confidence which merchants have in the wisdom of Premier Mitre's government than the free-that, although it was said there would be a row in the city to day on account of the swearing in of the clamorous Deputies, specie, instead of going up, actually fell, verifying the old saying that the man who speculates in Buenos Ayres always go by 'contraries' to win.

The Salto arrived from Montevideo on Saturday morning last before dawn, also the rather startling news that the Saintoge was not in Montevideo.

We have heard of no freights to-day, and believe that cargo is very scarce. Coastwise, we notice a good deal of produce coming down; and last, not least, the oranges are beginning to arrive.

Money is not to say tight, although there is a healthy demand for both paper and specie.

It is said that one of our private banks has joined with the merchants in the loan to the Government, and agreed to advance two hundred thousand patacons.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUA & C.°

No. 103 calle de Cangallo.

BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums o the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a most profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have no hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a resource fund in case of work, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other prodities

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days, and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and all acts directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also proounded that this new branch of their business will render immense services to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.

p. p. Mauá & Co.
WILLIAM LESLIE.

CONDITIONS.

1st. The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency to one silver dollar upwards

2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent [6 p$] per annum which is liquidated every six months.

3rd. The depositor can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

4th. Once the amount deposited exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency or one thousand dollars silver the depositor if he wishes can open an account current according to the rules established by the Bank.

5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

The PREVISORA ARGENTINA will receive subscriptions as follows:

1st. On one's own life, in shares of $5 silver and upwards These subscriptions liquidated at any time at the subscriber's own option.

2nd. Without loss of capital by death of the insurer. Subscribers will be entitled to compound interest on their subscriptions and the proportional interest forfeited by the death of other shareholders in their Class, whose capital, however, is returned.

3rd. With loss of capital, by death of the insurer All shareholders of the class shall gain compound interest on their subscriptions, besides a proportional part of the capital and interest of all who die in their Class

All these subscriptions may be paid weekly, monthly, quarterly, half yearly, or yearly

The capital of the Company shall be invested only in landed property (fincas), and with the greatest security.

The Board of Inspection, composed of subscribers, shall have charge of all the operations of the Company

Subscriptions in Paper Money.

The Directors, wishing to enlarge the operations of the Society, have acceded to the request of many people in this city, and determined to issue shares payable in Paper Money of Buenos Ayres, under the following conditions:—

Article 65—From the 1st of April, 1864, shares shall be issued to such persons as may wish to pay in Paper Money of pesos, Fyes, and to accordance with Article 17 chapter 5 of the Statutes of the Society the interest sum receivable being $200 annually, payable in one sum, or in instalments, subject to the following rules:

1st—For Paper Money Subscribers sections will be opened and kept separate from Silver Money Subscribers.

2nd—The liquidation of the sums belonging to the sections of Paper Money Subscribers will be administered according to Article 21 of the Statutes, and for account of these particular sections.

By these means the Directory hopes to gain its object which is to enable the poorer classes to enjoy all the advantages of the Society.
